Physical Force in Defense of a Person

1. A person is justified in using a reasonable degree of non-deadly force upon another person in order to defend himself or a third person from what he reasonably believes to be the imminent use of unlawful, non-deadly force by such other person, and he may use a degree of such force which he reasonably believes to be necessary for such purpose. However, such force is not justifiable if:
  - A. With a purpose to cause physical harm to another person he provoked the use of unlawful, non-deadly force by such other person; or
  - B. He was the initial aggressor, unless after such aggression he withdraws from the encounter and effectively communicates to such other person his intent to do so, but the latter notwithstanding continues the use or threat of unlawful, non-deadly force; or
  - C. The force involved was the product of a combat by agreement not authorized by law.

2. A person is justified in using deadly force upon another person:
  - A. When he reasonably believes it necessary, and he reasonably believes such other person is:
    - About to use unlawful, deadly force against himself or a third person; or
    - Committing or about to commit a kidnapping, robbery, or a violation of Section 253, Subsection 1, Paragraph A, against himself or a third person; or
  - B. When he reasonably believes:
    - That such other person has entered, or is attempting to enter, a dwelling place or has surreptitiously remained within a dwelling place without a license or privilege to do so; and
    - That deadly force is necessary to prevent the infliction of bodily injury by such other person upon himself, or a third person present in the dwelling place.
  - C. However, a person is not justified in using deadly force as provided in Paragraph A, if:
    - With the intent to cause physical harm to another, he provokes such other person to use unlawful deadly force against anyone; or
    - He know that the person against whom the unlawful deadly force is directed intentionally and unlawfully provoked the use of such force; or
    - He knows that he or a third person can, with complete safety:
      - Retreat from the encounter, except that he or the third person is not required to retreat if he or the third person is in his dwelling place and was not the initial aggressor; or
      - Surrender property to a person asserting a colorable claim or right thereto; or
      - Comply with a demand that he abstain from performing an act which he is not obliged to perform.
